

CURRENCY EXCHANGE RATES

This website aims to help users to find currency exchange rates of countries which they are looking for in a simpler way. The problem we have seen is users would be required to type the country name to a browser to learn currency exchange rates for each country they would like to check; however, this process might be time consuming for multiple countries. We have designed our website with a map that users can click on the country over the map that they would like to learn current currency exchange rates and they will be able to see the rates instantly. They can do multiple searches by clicking on the map. With the innovative design of our website users are only prompted with the information that they look at without any distractive advertisements.
